f.t.s. - folding tables look good in every context. A wide variety of designs, materials and surfaces including tabletops in all shapes and sizes make for a tailor-made solution every time.

f.t.s.

The most important characteristic of the f.t.s.-folding table is its extraordinary durability. The tables are fitted with a continuous shock-resistant surrounding edge, in accordance with the patented Cast-Form® procedure. The edge, made from pastel grey polyurethane, is virtually indestructible, colour durable, moisture repellent and resistant to chemical influences. The tables are also available in conventional edge details, including laminated beechwood and ABS-synthetic material.

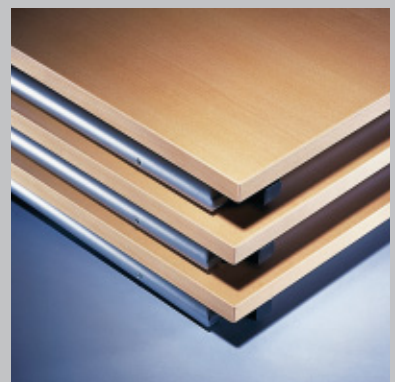

For maximum durability: Cast-Form® edging made from highly shock-resistant polyurethane (pastel grey). This edge is available for tables measuring 70/120, 70/140, 70/160, 80/120, 80/140 and 80/160 cm.

The flat integral folding frame minimises the stacking height.

The frame is secured automatically in a locked position for safety reasons when erected.

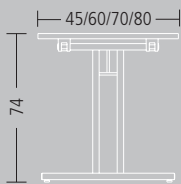

Stacking guards prevent any harm to the table-top when the tables are stacked.

For an event or a symposium, a company celebration or a seminar: with the aid of folding tables, rooms are quickly adapted for various occasions. f.t.s.-folding tables excel through their functionality, durability, and contemporary design. Depending on the application, there are several different options: T-legged tables, e.g. for banquets, training, and seminars, four-legged tables for cafeterias, lounges, and conference rooms. The selection of the table-top – either beech veneer or laminate finish, as well as various edge profiles allows for a distinctive appearance, in-tune with the architecture of the building.
